Skyline Legal Technologies Announces Introduction of e-CaseRoom™

Online case management tool is customized for each unique case

New York, NY (January 5, 2007) – Skyline Legal Technologies, a leader in document management and comprehensive litigation support services, today announced the formal release of e-CaseRoom™, Skyline's customized electronic litigation support tool. e-CaseRoom offers collaborative, web-hosted case management in addition to native file review and other tools for effectively managing litigation projects. Inherent in the design of e-CaseRoom is the flexibility to accommodate the needs of every unique case.

e-CaseRoom has been utilized by Skyline clients for select cases over the past year, and has consistently received very positive response. The tool incorporates not only the technology required to manage today's litigation cases, but comprehensive national project management and consultative services as well.

"Skyline clients are accustomed to our unique level of service and quality, both with regard to traditional litigation support services and the technology solutions required for today's complex cases," stated Mike McGowan, CEO of Skyline Legal Technologies. "e-CaseRoom is another example of our company's industry-leading technology and unwavering commitment to the needs of our customers."

Since their beginning in 1994, Skyline has delivered a customized service approach for their clients, one that takes a proactive method in providing support services throughout the litigation lifecycle. Skyline Legal Technologies will showcase e-CaseRoom later this month at LegalTech New York, January 29-31st at the New York Hilton. To learn more about e-CaseRoom, visit Skyline at booth #3123, or visit www.skylinelegal.com.
